TABLE LINENS AND HOUSEKEEPING GOODS

Even though we are informed that the unprecedented industrial condition in Europe will serve to materially advance the prices of Linens and that many Products will be cut off entirely for the coming Spring Season, this fact will not interfere with our usual custom in sharply reducing prices during the Clearance Sale.

All Table Damasks and Napkins put in during Sale at special discount.

The January Sale of Sheets, Pillow Cases, Bedspreads, Bleached and Brown Cottons, etc., Brings Lower Prices Than for Some Time.

Everybody should buy cotton goods this year, not only because prices are low, but to help in the great national movement to relieve the South of its great surplus of Cotton.

of the parish, to which all did ample justice. The church was found to be in excellent condition financially, all bills being paid, and considerable money left in the treasury. The following off-

Mrs. Juliette Lang continues to be very ill. Miss Brooks, a professional nurse, is in attendance.
Mrs. Benj. W. Harmon is confined to her bed.
George Flint has as fine a flock of Indian Runner Ducks as there is in any state or town. He defies anybody to show a finer marked flock than his, and these ducks are some layers too, if given a fair chance. His record shows that from September 1913 to September 1914, from 17 ducks (three of which were old ducks) the remainder of which were hatched in June, laid 2,559 eggs.
And these ducks had a mighty poor chance in winter, being kept in a dark corner of the stable, with no windows, light, sun, nor anything else to make them comfy. He says give them the same chance that you would biddy, and they will either make her cackle some, or shut her beak. Mr. Flint has at present 36 all told, ducks and drakes.
He also has a fine flock of Buff Orpingtons. He talked of taking his ducks and biddies this week to the Poultry Show at South Paris, but a couple of his cockerels overheard him talking about it, and got into a dispute as to which should go, and "you ought to see the other one now."
